

THE WIMPOLE WAY

Cambridge - Wimpole Hall

ROUTE 13 MILES

Allow approximately 5-6 hours

The Wimpole Way passes through gently rolling countryside, historic villages, and small areas of ancient woodland. The route, along ancient trackways and small sections of country road, provides good views of some of Cambridgeshire's most varied and attractive landscapes, ending at the spectacular 18th Century estate of Wimpole Hall, now owned by the National Trust.

Starting from Cambridge

From Cambridge there are two starting points for The Wimpole Way. The main route can be reached by proceeding from The Backs down Burrels Walk, across Grange Road and into Adams Road. At the junction of Adams Road and Wilberforce Road, the Coton footpath, which is the start of the Wimpole Way, lies opposite.

Alternatively, take the A603 out of Cambridge, and begin the walk from the footpath at the side of Laundry Farm. A layby exists on the A603 near the start of the walk.

Starting from Wimpole

The walk begins in the grounds of Wimpole Hall and follows the National Trust's waymarked Woodlands Walk. From the stables, walk across the lawns past the front of the Hall to the swing gate into the park. Continue by following the yellow bands on the waymarked posts. Please note that these paths are permissive and not a legal right of way.

The Wimpole Hall Car Park is available for use.
